

Specialist Dementia Care Program

With a history of supporting people with complex needs, Brightwater has been chosen to pilot the Australian Government's Specialist Dementia Care Program (SDCP).

The SDCP has been designed to:

- Provide specialised care for people exhibiting severe behavioural and psychological symptoms of dementia, in a dedicated dementia-friendly environment
- Focus on stabilising and reducing these symptoms over time, with the aim of enabling transition to a less intensive setting
- Generate evidence on best practice care for people living with dementia

Dementia Support Australia will assess potential clients for eligibility for the program.

Where will the SDCP take place?

Brightwater The Village is a warm and welcoming dementia-specific aged care home in Inglewood.

Located within Araluen House, the SDCP will provide a transitional home for eight people. Each client will have their own private room with ensuite bathroom, with access to shared social areas, beautiful landscaped gardens and a range of engaging activities.

Clients will be supported by a multi-skilled team, included care workers, nurses and allied health professionals.

How long will the SDCP go for?

The SDCP provides transitional, temporary support.

When behavioural and psychological symptoms stabilise, Brightwater will support clients to transition into a less intensive setting.

While timeframes will vary from person to person, the expected length of stay is up to 12 months.

What happens after transitioning out of the SDCP?

Planning for a smooth transition will start as soon as clients move into Araluen House. Our team will regularly talk to clients and their carers to discuss when this might be.

Before moving in, clients or their carers need to agree to accept a mainstream placement when the Clinical Advisory Committee determines they are ready to transition out of the program.

Preferences should be identified early, and could include:

- A mainstream placement within Brightwater The Village
- Returning to the previous aged care home (depending on availability)
- Moving to a new aged care home

What are the fees?

The fee structure for the SDCP is exactly the same as mainstream residential aged care.

SDCP clients will be required to contribute to care costs and accommodation, with no change to basic daily care fees or means tested fees.

Clients who are assessed as able to afford to contribute to their accommodation costs can choose to pay for their accommodation at Araluen House in the following ways (all rates current at January 2023)

Option A

Pay the full deposit of up to $515,000

This is known as the Refundable Accommodation Deposit (RAD). This is a lump sum deposit that is fully refunded if the client leaves.

If a RAD has been previously paid at another aged care home, this will either be refunded to the client or transferred to Brightwater.

Option B

Pay a daily rate of up to $99.61

Instead of paying the RAD, clients can pay a daily rate known as the Daily Accommodation Payment (DAP). This can be paid weekly or monthly.

Option C

Pay a partial deposit of up to $257,500 and a reduced daily rate of up to $49.81

Paying a portion of the RAD will reduce the daily rate, depending on how much of the deposit is paid.

The portion of the RAD paid will be fully refunded if the client leaves.

Please note that deposits and daily rates vary from home to home, and clients could be asked to pay more or less towards their care and accommodation than what they were paying before.

The SDCP will be happy to accept clients who are assessed as partially or fully supported for the accommodation component of their care costs.
