Common prices for
Support at Home clients

Every two months, the Australian Government requires Support at Home providers to publish the common prices clients have paid for their services. A common price is the amount most frequently charged for a particular type of service during that period.

This fact sheet shares Brightwater at Home's common prices for services delivered between September 2026 and October 2026. It gives you a snapshot of what people are most commonly paying for their care.
